

Youth under our Care with the warmest Sense of Liberty and Love to their Country; the most ardent Zeal for our happy Constitution, and the firmest Adherence to your Majesty's Sacred Person and Royal House, as being, under God, the surest Guardians of our Religion and Liberties, and every thing dear to us as Men and Christians.

May it please your Majesty,
Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects.

The following Address of the Custos Rotulorum, Justices of Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Citizens of the City and Liberty of Peterborough, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Honourable Thomas Lord Fitzwilliams, Custos Rotulorum of the City and Liberty of Peterborough, being introduced by his Grace the Duke of St. Albans, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the Custos Rotulorum, Justices of Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Citizens of the City and Liberty of Peterborough.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Custos Rotulorum, Justices of Peace, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Citizens of the City and Liberty of Peterborough, fully sensible of the many invaluable Blessings we enjoy under your most auspicious Government, beg leave to congratulate your Majesty upon your safe and happy Arrival into these your British Dominions.

Mov'd with the Groans of distressed Nations, your generous Pity call'd you hence to put a Stop to the sad Calamities of a wide wasting War, which had well nigh ruin'd and depopulated many flourishing States and Kingdoms; and Heaven, which knew the upright Intentions of your Royal Breast, has bless'd your pious Endeavours with Success.

The steady Pursuit of wise Counsels, has in a short Time made you surmount all the Difficulties and Obstacles in the Way of Peace, and to reconcile the jarring Interests of contending Nations, which in other Hands, and under weaker Influence, must have been the Labour of many Years to accomplish and bring about.

Your Majesty engaged in this just and necessary War, to vindicate the Rights of your injur'd Subjects, and to restore and secure the Balance of Power, and the Liberties of Europe; these salutary Ends once obtained, you lent your healing Hand to staunch her bleeding Wounds, and fix her Safety and Repose upon a firm and solid Foundation.

The particular Regard your Majesty has always shewn to the true Interests of your People, and the Care you have taken to secure their just Rights, as confirm'd to them by this and former Treaties, calls for our most grateful Acknowledgments. Commerce, we hope, will now again revive and flourish, and all the happy Arts of Peace enrich and adorn these envied Kingdoms.

May your Majesty long enjoy the Fruits of all your Labours, in the due Returns of Obedience and Loyalty from all your Subjects; may your Reign be prosperous, and never more disturb'd either by foreign Wars, or domestick Commotions; may you long live to bless these Nations, and when full of Years and Glory Heaven shall call you hence, may your Memory survive in the amiable Character of the most gracious and merciful Prince that ever fill'd a Throne, or bless'd a People; and may there never be wanting Princes of your illustrious House, the true Heirs of your Crown, and the exact Imitators of all your Royal Virtues, to reign over us through all future Ages.

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Town Clerk, Brethren, Capital Burgeses, and others, of the Borough of Derby, has been presented to his Majesty by the Right Honourable the Lord Duncannon and John Stanhope, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by his Grace the Duke of St. Albans, one of the Lords of his Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Town Clerk, Brethren, Capital Burgeses, and others of your Majesty's ancient Borough of Derby in the County of Derby.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majesty's late happy Arrival into your British Dominions from Abroad, now excites us, from an unfeigned Joy and Thankfulness, to approach your Royal Person; and more particularly, as your Majesty's Return hither to your Loyal Subjects, is attended with such strong Assurances, (through your Majesty's great Wisdom and Policy) of Transferring to the People of this Nation, an happy and solid Peace.

'Tis now through God's Providence and Protection of your Majesty's Person and Royal Family, that we find the gloomy Horrors of an unnatural Rebellion, and national Confusion, which so lately exhibited themselves in this Kingdom, (and more than ordinarily in this Place) and so destructive of the Comforts we enjoyed under your Majesty's auspicious Government, effectually dissipated and removed.

Your Majesty and Royal Family may always depend on our inviolable Attachments to your Majesty's Person and Government, which have so substantially enabled us to enjoy those invaluable Blessings of our Religion, Laws and Liberties;
