THE New Critical, Biographical, and Geographical HISTORY of SCOTLAND. In this and the former Numbers, several Things are taken Notice of not to be found in other Histories of Scotland. The Author determined to do Justice with the strictest Impartiality to all Nations allied to Scotland. The five former Numbers are to be had only of the Author, at Mrs. Winchbush's, Charing-cross, or at his own House; where Book-sellers and others can be supplied as they want.

If any Person or Persons can give certain Intelligence of any Numbers sold in any of the Cities or Towns in England, or elsewhere, upon Conviction of the Venders and Offenders, the Persons giving the Information shall be intitled to Ten Pounds Reward; for the Author and sole Proprietor of this Work has given no Orders for any, nor sold any to the Country as yet; and none have any Right but he alone to supply the Cities or Towns, or any Persons with the Numbers.

The Proprietors and the Author of this National, useful and publick Work are determined to carry on and to execute the whole Work according to the first Proposals, notwithstanding all the indirect Practices used to hurt the Undertaking, which will be made publick to the World. Thro' the Whole of the History down to the present Year, the strictest Impartiality and Truth will be observed, and all possible Care taken to avoid giving any Offence to either Side.
