NUMBER XIII. XIV. and XV. of
The New, Full, Critical, Biographical, and Geographical,

HISTORY of SCOTLAND,

With all the Preceeding Numbers, and the Head of Fergus the Second, which should have been delivered with No XII. had the Plate been timely delivered to the Proprietor.

The Number XIII. contains many curious and important Articles of the History of this Reign; in particular, the Amours of King James with two married Ladies; which the Public, at all Times construed as the Cause of his fatal Misfortunes and Overthrow soon after.

All Noblemen, Gentlemen, and others, who want Setts of the Fourteen Numbers now publish'd, and of the Five antique Heads already engraved of the Kings of Scotland, viz. of Fergus the First and Second, Robert Bruce, Malcolm, Canmore, and James the First, may be supplied at the Admiralty Coffee House, Middle Scotland Yard, from the Author and Proprietor; or by leaving their Directions, shall have them sent to any Part of the Town without Expence; none else having Right to sell or vend the Numbers or Heads, but such as the Author delivers out to the Shops or otherwise.

The History is to be carried on, as first proposed, with the greatest Care, Candour, and Impartiality, to give Satisfaction to the Public; avoiding Offence as much as possible in the relating of Facts, and the representing of Characters. The Proprietor and Author being determined to execute the whole with Truth, Spirit, and Integrity, has taken no mercenary, mean, or deceiving Ways, to introduce this national, useful, and great Work. As there is so much Drawing, Engraving, and Printing, the Public may easily see their Bargain is fair, and no Plot can be to impose upon the Public, for no Subscription Money Advance is accepted.

The Fifteen Numbers of this New History are all entered in Stationers Hall, with the Heads; and as the whole History will consist of 110 Numbers with the Maps of the Counties and Heads, the legal Methods are taken to secure the Property to the Author, and whoever shall be found pirating or vending these Numbers, Heads or Maps, over England, Scotland, or Ireland, without the Author's Permission and Order, will be prosecuted with the utmost Rigour of Law.

TO be sold, pursuant to a Decree of the High Court of Chancery, before Anthony Allen, Esq; one of the Masters of the said Court, at his House in Breame's Buildings, Chancery Lane, Several Leasehold Messuages in Leicester-street, Lisle-street, and Sidney-street, in the Parish of St. Anne, Westminster, late the Estate of Sir George Walter, Knight, deceased. Particulars whereof may be had at the said Master's House.
