

The London Gazette.

Numb. 8975.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday July 28, to Tuesday July 31, 1750.

Constantinople, June 22.

WHILST the Grand Signior was visiting the Serrail of the Ichouglans or Pages, M. De Salleurs took the Opportunity to send a Present to the Khar Aga, of Sweet-meats, a Gold Snuff-box, and a Case of Mathematical Instruments set with Diamonds. Zayde Etendi the late Cheia is arrived here, and has been at the Porte; there is no Talk as yet of his coming into Post. There is Advice from Bassora received at Aleppo, that Shawrooke, Schach of Persia, was dethroned, and one Solyman Doub, who married a Sister of Schach Thamas's, succeeds him; as he is a Man of Resolution, it gives them Hope that the Affairs of that Kingdom will remain in a quiet Situation.

Petersbourg, July 14. Her Imperial Majesty finding herself pretty much out of Order, was let Blood on Tuesday last, since which she is much better. On the 10th Instant the Grand Duke's Name Day was celebrated at Peterhoff with great Solemnity; on this Occasion all the Foreign Ministers and divers other Persons of Distinction were invited to a magnificent Entertainment, which ended with a Ball at Night. The Count de Lynar, Envoy Extraordinary to the King of Denmark, will have his Audience of Leave of the Empress next Week, and 'tis expected will soon after leave this Court on his Return to Denmark.

Rome, July 18. Cardinal Valenti, Secretary of State, received a few Days ago, an Express dispatched by the Pope's Nuncio at Venice, with Advice, that he had received Orders from the Senate to depart that City within the Space of Five Days, and the Territories of the Republick in Ten Days. This Express was followed by another to the Venetian Ambassador, ordering him immediately to return Home, with ut taking his Leave of this Court; upon which his Excellency has taken down the Arms of the Republick from the Gate of his Hotel, and 'tis believed will set out this Night. All which is occasioned by the Pope's late Decision of the Affair of the Patriarch of Aquila.

Vienna, July 22. On Monday last a grand Council was held at Schonbrun, after which their Imperial Majesties went to Hetzendorff to visit the Empress Dowager; and Yesterday their Imperial Majesties, accompanied by Prince Charles of Lorraine, set out for Mannerstorff, in order to spend some Days with the Countess de Fucks. They write from Prague, that the Troops destined to form the Camps in Bohemia were all in Motion, and would be assembled by the 1st of next Month. The Prince Campo Reale, Ambassador from the King of the Two Sicilies, is expected here next Week; after whose Arrival the Prince of Esterhafi is to set out with the same Character to the Court of Naples.

Stockholm, July 24. On the 18th Instant, in the Evening, an Express arrived here from Drottningholm, with the agreeable News of the Princess Royal's being brought to Bed of a Prince, which was soon after proclaimed to the People by a triple Discharge of 256 Pieces of Cannon; and great Rejoycings were made throughout the whole City. The next Day, publick Thanksgivings were made in all the Churches for this happy Event. The King was no sooner informed of the Princess's safe Delivery, than he sent M. Insensier, one of his Chamberlains, to compliment their Royal Highnesses in his Name; and on the 22d the young Prince was baptized, in the Chapel of Drottningholm, in the Presence of his Majesty, the Prince Successor his Father, and several Lords of the Court, by the Archbishop, and was named Frederick-Adolphus. The Distemper amongst the Horned Cattle continuing to rage very much in divers Parts of this Kingdom, an Edict has been lately published, by Order of the King and Senate, forbidding under the most severe Penalties, all Persons whatsoever from bringing any Horned Cattle into this City from any Places infected with the said Distemper.

Copenhagen, July 25. A few Days ago the King and Queen, accompanied by Princess Amelia, went to Friedericksbourg to visit the Queen Mother, and at Night returned to Friedensbourg. On the 22d sailed from hence 16 large Shallops, in order to cruize along the Coast of Terbek, three Leagues from hence, to exercise the Seamen.

Turin, July 25. The King of Sardinia continues still at the Baths of Vaudier; and by the last Letters from that Place we are informed, that though the Waters did not agree with his Majesty at first, at present he receives great Benefit from them.

Berlin, July 28. Mustapha Aga, Colonel in the Service of the Ottoman Porte, and Secretary to the Great Chan of Crim Tartary and to Sultan Chan his Brother, arrived here on Tuesday last. The King was no sooner informed of his Arrival, than he ordered his Expences to be defrayed during his Stay at this Court; and Yesterday his Majesty came hither from Potsdam, when Mustapha Aga was admitted to an Audience, and delivered his Credential Letters.

[Price Two-pence.]

Frankfort,