On the 14th Instant, about Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, a violent Fire broke out here, which deftroyed upwards of 200 Houses, and would have occasioned a much more confiderable Damage, if her Imperial Majefty, and their Imperial Highneffes the Grand Duke and Dutches, had not given the most proper and careful Directions for the extinguishing of it. The general Confultation of the Pieves, that was to have been held the last Day of May, has been postponed until the 8th Instant, from which Protraction it is judged, that the Chiefs of the Rebels are not inclined to put an End to the Rebellion by feeking Means of Accommodation, but rather to foment the Divisions, and keep up the Spirit of Animosity, to prevent a Reconciliation between the Republick and the Inhabitants of the Island, who seem to be rather favourably inclined.
