

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday March 29. to Thursday April 1. 1675.

Falmouth, March 25.

Here is put in the Recovery of Foy in Cornwall, which about a month since, being bound from Plymouth to Topsham, was by bad weather forced upon the coast of France, where an Offend Caper, of four Guns, came up with her, and sending his Men on board, they took out of her two Hogheads of Sugar, two halfe Hogheads of Spirits, broke open the Seamens Chests, and carried away their Cloaths, and whatever else they found there, misusing and bearing besides, the Master and Seamen so forely, that one of them dyed thereof, three days after.

Barnstable, March 26. Tuesday night last was cast away near Isford-Comb, the Arms of Bristol, of 350 Tuns, Captain Templeman Commander, bound for the Barbados; 16 Passengers and Seamen were drowned, the rest, which were 40, saved themselves.

Lime, March 27. The 25 arrived here the Samuel of this place from the Texel, the Master informs us, that some days after he came out, he met with three Privateers of 10 Guns each, bearing Offend Colours, who sent their Boats on board him, broke open his Hold, took out several Goods, and plundered him and his Seamen, of all they had, notwithstanding he showed them his Sea Brief.

Weymouth, March 27. Here is come in a Vessel from St. Malo's in France; the Master reports, that at his coming from thence about a fortnight since, there were above 90 Sail ready to put to Sea, designed to go and Fish at Canada. The Master adds, that a Tax of 60 Sols per Tun, had been lately laid upon all French Ships outward bound.

Naples, March 12. Every day brings us some account or other of the success of the French at Messina, so that, without some timely remedy, it may, as is feared, have an influence upon the whole Kingdom. We have advice, that the Viceroy thereof, had caused the Governor of the Tour du Fare, to be beheaded, for having quitted that Post without Orders, upon the first arrival of the Duke de Vivonne. The Marquis de Bayonne, late Viceroy of Sicily, and Don Melchior della Queva, who Commanded the Fleet, are prisoners here till farther Orders come from the Court at Madrid.

Warsaw, March 15. There are still hopes of bringing the accommodation with Dorofensko to the desired issue, his demands are. 1. That the Cossacks shall continue in the free exercise of the Greek Religion, without any disturbance whatsoever. 2. That a Bishop, or Archbishop of their Church, shall have Session in the Senate. 3. That a part of the Ukrain shall be set apart for the use of their Army. 4. That the King at his Coronation shall confirm all their privileges, and these Articles by Oath. 5. That the Republick shall declare whether they have need of the service of the Cossacks, and on what conditions they desire it. 6. That the Deputies which the Cossacks shall send to the Dyet, shall be received and Treated with the same respect, as the Deputies of the Dukedom of Lithuania, or of the Kingdom of Poland. 7. That they shall continue their Commerce with their neighbors as heretofore. 8. That they may erect Printing Houses, &c.

Marseilles, March 29. Here are 24 Gallies in great forwardness, being designed for Messina, together with 15 or 20 Men of War that are fitting out at Thoulon, with them will go 40 other Vessels and Barks, laden with Soldiers and Provisions.

Vienne, March 20. The Count of Waldeck is still here, but will part in 2 or 3 days at furthest, on his return for Holland, he intending to take his way through Bohemia. The Troops that were raised here by the Spanish Ambassador, for the service of that Crown, to be employed against the Messineses, not being permitted by the Venetians to pass through their Territories, are commanded to march through Tyrol for Milan, in order to their embarkation at Final, which will loose much time. The 4 of the next month, the Count de Montecensuli will part hence to the Elector of Bavaria's Court, and from thence pass on towards Cologne, where, it is said, a Conference will be held by the Ministers, at least of the several Allies.

Strasbourg, March 28. On Tuesday last the French blew up the Fort or Castle of Dachstein, and seem intended to do the like with Moesheim and Muzigh. The Imperial Troops that are quartered in suabia, are commanded to march towards the Rhine, as some of the Troops of the Circles likewise are; and on the other side, the Marquis de Vanbrun assembles a body of an Army at Brisack, so that the time for action comes on apace. The Duke of Lorraine and the Marquis of Baden are still here, endeavouring all they can to keep this City in the interests of the Emperor and the Allies; though it seems the arguments of the French Envoye here have been more powerful with our Magistrates; for we are assured that they have embraced a Neutrality, and that 2000 Swisssers are to come hither for the guard of our Bridge, and the enabling us to maintain the Neutrality. They are to be Commanded by Colonel Vecchia, who formerly served in Candia.

Hamburg, March 29. The 23 instant, General Wrangel parted from Stetin, to the Head Quarter at Stragard; In the mean time the Swedish Troops move nearer and nearer to Prussia and Silesia, but hitherto commit not any hostility. It is said, that the Elector of Brandenburg has commanded his Subjects not to pay any more Contributions to the Swedes.

Cologne, March 29. On Tuesday last the Marquis de Grana arrived here from Cleves, and the same day parted again for Bon. We are informed, that the Prince of Orange, upon the instances that have been made to him, has declared, that he will cause the Dutch Troops, Commanded by the Sieur Fariaux, to retire out of this Diocess, in case the Elector of Cologne will pay one third of the Moneys due to the States at present, and the rest when the Peace shall be concluded. From Auris of the 25 instant they write, that two thousand Imperialists were expected in the Countrey of Brisgovia, to hinder for the future, the incursions of the Garrison of Brisack; and that the Troops of the Circle of

Upper