

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday November 20, to Saturday November 24, 1759.

St. James's, November 23.

THIS Day the humble Address of the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford, was presented to His Majesty by the Reverend Doctor Brown, Vice-Chancellor, and Provost of Queen's College, being introduced by the Lord of the Bed-Chamber, and attended by Sir Roger Newdigate, Member for the University; Doctor Gregory, Dean of Christ Church; Doctor Niblet, Warden of All Souls College; and Doctor Hudesford, President of Trinity College; which His Majesty received very graciously. And they all had the Honour of Kissing His Majesty's Hand.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most loyal and faithful University of Oxford, beg leave, amidst the general Acclamations of a joyful and united People, to approach your sacred Person with Hearts full of Duty and Affection, most humbly to congratulate your Majesty on the many glorious and happy Events of this memorable Year.

The uninterrupted and unparalleled Series of Successes, which have attended your Majesty's Plans of Operation, during the Course of a War, so uncommonly complicated and extensive, will ever stand distinguished with a peculiar Lustre in the Annals of Great Britain: Successes, equally remarkable for their Number, Variety and Importance: Every Quarter of the Globe having afforded Scenes for your Majesty's signal Triumphs both by Sea Land, and been a Witness of the repeated Disappointments and Defeat of your restless and ambitious Enemies.

Among the numerous and happy Effects of your Majesty's prudent and vigorous Measures; whether concerted for the Support of the Protestant Religion and the Liberties of Europe; or more immediately directed towards the Preservation and Advancement of the Commercial Interest of your British Dominions; the truly difficult and glorious Conquest of Quebec (attempted in vain more than once by your Royal Predecessors) doth, on many Accounts, demand more particularly our warmest Congratulations. So valuable and important an Acquisition seems to have been reserved by Providence to compleat and crown all the preceding Glories of your Majesty's most auspicious Reign.

In this and many other arduous and successful Enterprises, we cannot but see, and, after your Majesty's great and pious Example, devoutly adore the Hand of Divine Providence, which hath, on all Occasions, so visibly supported the Justice of your Cause and the Progress of your Arms.

And we doubt not, but that, under the Protection of the same good Providence, the utmost Efforts of an enraged and desponding Enemy will be baffled and frustrated through your Majesty's known Wisdom and Experience, through the Abilities and Activity of your Ministers, the Courage and Conduct of your Commanders, the Intrepidity of your Forces, and that perfect Harmony and Union, which happily subsists amongst all your Subjects.

May your Enemies themselves perceive at length, and acknowledge the Interposition of Heaven, so conspicuous in your Majesty's Favour; and, by entertaining more serious Sentiments of Equity and Moderation, give your Majesty an Opportunity of accomplishing the Desire of your Heart, by dispensing to contending Nations the greatest and most comprehensive of all temporal Blessings, a general and lasting Peace!

May your Majesty long live to enjoy such glorious Fruits of your unwearyed Labours for the Publick Good! And may there never be wanting in your Royal House a Succession of Illustrious Princes, inheriting your Majesty's Crown and Virtues, and reigning, like your Majesty, in the Hearts of all their Subjects!

Given at our House of Convocation, this Twentieth Day of November, in the Year of our Lord 1759.

The following Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, and Freemen of the Corporation of Cambridge, has been presented to His Majesty by the Honourable Charles Sloane Cadogan, and Soame Jenyns, Esq; their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Common-Council, and Freemen of the Corporation of Cambridge.

May it please your Majesty,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common-Council, and Freemen of the Corporation of Cambridge, most humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majesty upon the very great and signal Successes that have attended your Majesty's Arms in the four different Quarters of the World, from the Reduction of the Island of Goree on the Coast of Africa, to the Defeat of the French Army in Canada, and the surrender of Quebec, their Capital.

We cannot but sincerely lament the Loss of the General who fell so gloriously in the Cause of his Country, and whose Virtues and heroic Conduct have rendered his Memory for ever Dear and Sacred to his Fellow-Citizens.

It is with the most unfeigned Joy and Satisfaction that we see the Zeal and Unanimity of all your Majesty's faithful Subjects in their respective Counties, who, throughly sensible of, and gratefully acknowledging, your Majesty's paternal Care, are all ready to sacrifice their Lives and Fortunes in the Defence of your Royal Person and Government.

Given under our Common Seal, the Twentieth Day of November, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty Nine.

The following Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common-Council of the Borough of Boston, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable Lord Robert Bertie, one of their Representatives in Parliament, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common-Council of the Borough of Boston.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Common Council, of the ancient Borough of Boston, most