Dublin, February 23.

YESTERDAY Morning, a little before Eleven o'Clock, an Account was received, that a Body of French, supposed to be about 1000 Men, were landed at Carrickfergus, on Thursday Morning. Immediately upon the Receipt of this Intelligence, his Grace the Lord Lieutenant gave Orders for the assembling, with the utmost Expedition, at Newry, four Regiments of Infantry, viz. Pole's, Anstruther's, Sandford's, and Sebright's; and three Regiments of Dragoons, viz. Molten's, Yorke's, and Whitley's; and his Grace made no Doubt, that, should the French be hardy enough to hazard themselves at any Distance from their Ships, the Troops, he should be able to get together, in a very few Days, will be more than sufficient to protect the Country from any Violence, and to drive them out of the Kingdom. And this Morning, at Half past Seven, a farther Account was received, That Lieutenant Colonel Jennings had suffered himself, with four Companies of Major General Strode's Regiment under his Command at Carrickfergus, to be made Prisoners of War: And that, on the 22d in the Morning, about Eight o'Clock, a Flag of Truce came to Belfast, and made a Demand of several Articles of Provisions, and other Necessaries, to be delivered that Day at Two o'Clock, promising to pay for them, and threatening, in Case of Refusal, to burn Carrickfergus, and afterwards to come up and burn Belfast also: With which Demands the Gentlemen of Belfast thought it best to comply. The French Prisoners of War had been removed from Carrickfergus and Belfast to Lisburn.

Dublin, February 24.

This Evening, his Grace the Lord Lieutenant received the following Letter from Major General Strode, dated, Belfast, February 23, 1760, at Six in the Evening, viz.

INformation of Benjamin Hall, Lieutenant and Adjutant to my Regiment, who, this Moment, arrived here, on his Parole, from Carrickfergus, in order to get Provisions for the Officers and Soldiers of my Regiment there, says, that, on the 21st Instant, three Ships appeared off the Isle of Magee, standing in Shore, for the Bay of Carrickfergus; and at Eleven o'Clock came to an Anchor, about Two Miles and an Half to the North East Part of the Castle, and within Musquet Shot of the Shore of Killrute Point. At this Time, the small Number of Troops, belonging to the Garrison, were at Exercise, about Half a Mile on the Road to Belfast; and at a Quarter after Eleven o'Clock, the Guard was turned out, made up, and marched off, to relieve that on the French Prisoners in the Castle; the rest of the Men continued in the Field of Exercise, where an Account was soon brought, that the three Ships, just come to an Anchor, had taken and detained two Fishing Boats, and, with them and several others, were plying on and off betwixt the Shore and the Ships; on which, immediate Orders were sent to the Castle for both Guards to continue under Arms, and double the Centries over the French Prisoners, and be particularly strict and watchful over them, till such Time as they could be satisfied, whether they were Friends or Enemies; though, at the same Time, a strong Report prevailed with some, that it was an English Frigate, and two Store Ships: But, to be convinced what

“ they were, after the Troops had assembled in the “ Market Place, the said Lieutenant Hall went off
 “ with a reconnoitring Party, and took Post on a ris“ ing Ground, where he could plainly perceive “ Eight Boats landing armed Men; and that they “ drew out in Detachments, and took Post on the “ Dykes, Hedges, and all the rising Grounds, from “ whence they could have the most extensive Views; “ upon which he gave the necessary Orders to his “ Non-Commission Officers, and Men, to have a “ watchful Eye of their Approaches, and to “ take particular Care, that they did not get “ round them, by going at the Foot of the Hill “ undiscovered; in order to prevent which, he posted “ them himself, and told them, as soon as ever
 “ their advanced Guard came within Shot, to fire “ upon them, and continue so to do, until they “ repulsed them, or, it necessitated to retreat, he “ likewise pointed that out to them, with Orders
 “ to take every Opportunity, on Advantage of Ground,
 “ in their Retreat, to retard the Enemy's Approach,
 “ and to be sure to keep a Communication with the “ Town as much as possible; and on this, he im“ mediately went to the Town, and acquainted
 “ Lieutenant Colonel Jennings, where he found “ him with the Troops on the Parade; who im“ mediately ordered Detachments to be made to defend “ the Gates of the Town, and all the Avenues lead“ ing thereto. Soon after which the reconnoitring “ Party retired, after having spent all their Ammu“ nition; during which Time, the Lieutenant Colonel, “ and chief Magistrate of the Town, sent off the “ Sheriff, and Mr. Mucklewaine, (who is Captain
 “ of the Militia of the Corporation) with Orders “ to take off the French Prisoners of War, and convey “ them with all Speed to Belfast, where they were “ to receive further Orders from me. By this Time
 “ the Enemy were in full March for the Town,
 “ which he computed to be near 1000 Men; and “ two or three stragling Hussars, on Horses they “ had picked up after Landing, attempted to enter “ the Gates, but, on the first Fire, retired, but were “ soon supported by Parties of Foot, who attacked “ both the North and Scotch Gates, as also the “ Garden Walls of Lord Donnegall, who were re“ pulsed also, and kept back as long as the Men “ had Ammunition; on which Colonel Jennings or“ dered the Whole to retire to the Castle; which “ he had sufficient Time to do, as, at this Time,
 “ the Enemy was a little checked from our Fire;
 “ and would have been more so, had the Men had “ Ammunition. Before the Gates of the Castle “ were shut, they made their Appearance in the “ Market place; and then it was in his Opinion
 “ the Destruction of the Enemy would have com“ menced, had it not been, that still (he begs “ Leave again to observe) the then dreadful Want “ of Ammunition, notwithstanding the Supply of “ Powder they had had, a few Days before, from “ Belfast, by my Order, but was in Want of Ball,
 “ and even Time, if they had that, to make “ them up; from which, the Enemy, finding “ our Fire so cool, attacked the Gates sword in “ Hand, which, from the battering of the Shot on “ both Sides, the Bolts were knocked back, and “ the Gates opened, and the Enemy marched in;
 “ but Lieutenant Colonel Jennings, Lord Walling“ ford, Captain Bland, Lieutenant Ellis, with some “ other Gentlemen, and about Fifty Men, repulsed
 “ the Enemy, and beat them back. Here it was “ he

“ he saw great Resolution in a few Irish Boys, who “ defended the Gate, after it was opened, with “ their Bayonets; and those from the Half Moon, “ after their Ammunition was gone, threw Stones “ and Bricks. Had this Attack of the Enemy been “ supported with any Degree of Courage, they must “ certainly have succeeded in it, but they retired “ back under Cover, leaving the Gates open with “ our Men in the Front of it, which gave them a “ short Time to consider what was best to be done;
 “ first to see the Men’s Ammunition, which, if they “ had had any, would have certainly failed, and “ even so without it, had not Colonel Jennings, and “ all the Officers, thought the Enterprize too haz“ ardous. Then they considered, if the Gate could “ be defended, the Breach in the Castle Wall “ could not, it being near Fifty Feet long; and,
 “ having but a short Time to deliberate, all agreed,
 “ a Parly should be beat, and Lieutenant Hall sent “ out to know on what Terms they might surren“ der; which was accordingly done, and, on his “ going out, found the greatest Part of the Enemy “ under Shelter of the old Walls and Houses before
 “ the Castle Gate; and after the usual Ceremony, “ demanded of the Commandant, (the General being “ wounded) what Terms would be given the “ Troops on their Surrender, and at the same Time “ sent the Drum to call Colonel Jennings out of the “ Castle, in order to treat with the French Com“ mandant on Articles of Capitulation, which, he “ says, as well as he can remember, were as fol“ lows, viz.

“ Colonel Jennings demanded, that the Troops
 “ should march out with all the Honors of War,
 “ and the Officers to be on their Parole in “ Ireland, and not to be sent Prisoners to “ France; the Soldiers also to stay in Ireland,
 “ and that an equal Number of French Pri“ soners should be sent to France, within one “ Month, or as soon after as Ships could be “ got ready for that Purpose.

“ That the Castle of Carrickfergus should not be “ demolished, or any of the Stores destroyed, “ or taken out of it.

“ That the Town and County of Carrickfergus
 “ should not be plundered or burnt, on Con“ dition the Mayor and Corporation furnished
 “ the French Troops with necessary Provisions.

“ This, as well as he can remember, was the “ Verbal Articles agreed on, though, on Writing “ them, the French Commandant, after consulting “ his Principal Officers, declared, He could not, by “ any Means, answer to his Master, the French “ King, granting to his Britannick Majesty the “ Stores in the Castle, which he insisted upon; and “ Colonel Jennings, to his great Grief, had it not in “ his Power to refuse, declaring solemnly, at the “ same Time, with a grave Countenance, that he “ had rather have been buried in the Ruins. To “ which the French Commandant replied, that he “ could not insert it in the Articles of Capitulation, “ yet he would give his Word and Honour, and “ did so, that, if there was nothing of great Value
 “ in the Castle, belonging to the King, besides “ Powder, he would not touch it, (which there “ really was not) but how far he will keep his Pro“ mise, is not yet known. Likewise the Magistrates “ of Carrickfergus, not furnishing the French with “ necessary Provisions, they plundered the Town, “ declaring it was their own Fault, as they were “ convinced they had it in their Power to supply “ them, as they had found enough in the Town “ afterwards.

“ Mr. Hall further informs me, that he has dis“ covered by some of the French, there was a Dis“ agreement betwixt their General, and Captain “ Thurot, the General being for the Attack of Car“ rick, and Thurot for landing at the Whitehouse, “ and attacking Belfast. He likewise judges the “ Frigates to be, one of 40 Guns, the other two “ about 20 each.

“ Lieutenant Hall begs Leave to present his Duty
 “ to your Grace, and hopes your Grace will excuse “ any Inaccuracy, that may be in his Description, “ as he was no ways provided with any Papers, but “ his Memory, and often interrupted by Numbers
 “ of Gentlemen of the Militia, who were crowding “ perpetually in the Room to receive Orders.

“ I beg Leave to subscribe myself,

Belfast, Feb. 23,

“ My Lord, &c.
